Your HRO Staff is working diligently to reduce the number of days it takes to hire each vacancy and have been thoroughly reviewing all of our actions to identify steps we can perform more effectively or eliminate entirely.

Effective immediately, the announcements will no longer be listed below; rather, you will need to access the jobs by going to USAJobs and inputting the announcement number, or other pertinent information. We recognize that most of our current and potential employees have USAJobs accounts and have already arranged to have announcements emailed directly to them on a daily, weekly, or monthly basis, and that the elimination of this list will not cause a major impact on our customers. Setting up a customized search is easy. See instructions for setting up a USAJobs search. Once you set up your search, you won’t have to go search for jobs any longer, they’ll be send directly to you!

For your convenience, here are links to our announcements on USAJobs:
